

The Royal College of Music is one of the world's leading conserv

Our approach to environmental management seeks to manage the environmental impacts, opportunities and risks that occur across the life-cycle of our operations. As such, we also seek to control and influence environmental impacts, risks and opportunities in our supply chain, projects with partners, and any investments we may make.