

SHORT TERM ACCOMMODATION

Updated Sept2023

Short term accommodation in London can often be quite pricey, but there are cheaper alternatives to hotels. Should you need a place to stay, from one night to a few weeks, an option is to stay in a hostel. Here are the details of some close to the RCM, and larger institutions. Student Services advises that you apply early as, obviously, accommodation is limited and in high demand. Bookings and applications are made online, so check their websites first. Some hostels are for 18-35 year olds only, some have a wider age range, so do check if any of your party is outside this age group.
